Counselor's Corner

Sources of Strength adopted two local families this past holiday season. Students worked with their homeroom teachers to collect presents for the families and then stayed after school to wrap the presents for the families. Thank you to all who donated and helped support Sources of Strength and the families.

- Incoming 9th grade presentations will be during English classes on January 31st and February 1st. Please try to remind students to hold off on scheduling online till February 1st.
- The HS counselors will be meeting with students on January 14-18 to work on scheduling. This will be in the CJHS media center during English classes.
- Churchill Study Help is up and running after school in the Media Center Tues & Thurs!! If you have any students who could use extra help, please promote & feel free to refer students to the program! The students are excited to help!!
- New groups underway, boys anxiety, girls anxiety, divorce, and social skills. Please reach out to the counselors if you have any students who would benefit.
- Please continue to support us by handing out appointment slips to students during 1st period.

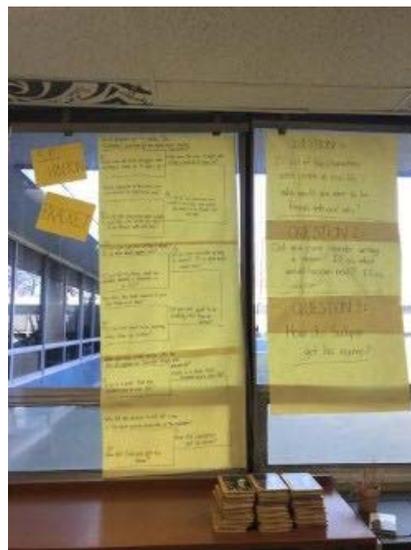

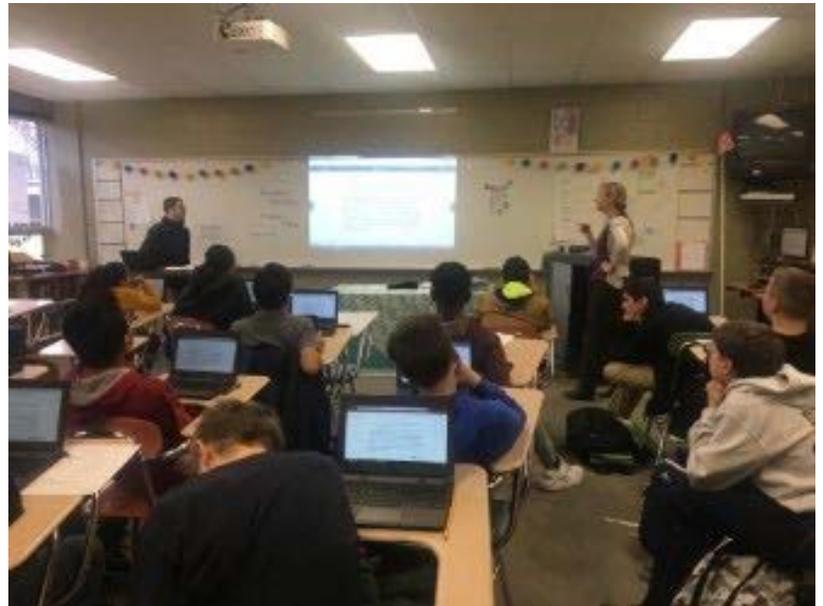

The two Student of the Months are Mark Shenouda (9th grade) and Natalya Perez (8th grade). If you see them in the halls or in your class congratulate them and tell them to keep up the good work!

Ms. Cascioli's English classes had the unique opportunity to ask questions to the author of The Outsiders, S.E. Hinton, after reading the book. Using the power of Twitter to reach out to the author, Hinton responded that she would answer 3 questions. Ms. Cascioli's classes voted on the top 3 questions in a bracket-style tournament to determine the winners. S.E. Hinton replied almost immediately, and classes were able to read her responses this week!

 @se4realhinton Is there any chance you would answer questions my excited 8th grade students have about The Outsiders after they finish reading it this week?

Ninth grade students Lillian Zhu and Aaron Tsui successfully auditioned into the CJMEA Region II High School Orchestra. Thank you for making your CJHS teachers proud and for representing our school.

On Monday December 10, all 191 members of the CJHS Orchestras squeezed onto the stage at the JMPAC for their winter concert. Ninth grade students Emily Ta and Amy Xu both composed pieces for the orchestra, which were premiered during the concert. Bravo on a job well done!
