WE LOVE KINDERGARTEN!

The Kindergarten children recently learned all about writing How-To Books. To begin this unit, we thought it would be a great experience if the children were able to use hands-on experience to create something. First, the children made Snack Mix by following numbered steps. After they enjoyed eating their final product, they wrote a How-To Make Snack Mix Booklet based on the steps that they followed. The children then created a diagram of the snack mix bowl and labeled it.

Keeping with the theme of nonfiction writing, the children also came up with a caption to match photographs of them doing the activity.
